Nature, as displayed in scenes of great beauty and in the wonders of Annette Kellermann's perfect form; fancy, as it runs riot in a fairy tale of mermalds, and of kings, dukes and lordlings in doublet and hose, and art and science, as manifested in a motion picture film of unique conception and faultless production, all combine to make "Neptune's Daughter," the spec-tacular photoplay that is being ex-hibited at the Bijou Theatre, one of the very few worth-while big feature films of the season.

Colonial's Bill is High Class.

It isn't often that "pop vaudeville" provides better entertainment than that offered in the Colonial Theatre's bill for the first half of this week. As a matter of fact, except that there are fewer acts, the bill is just about as strong as the average seen at the Lyric last season, and there is no reason why it shouldn't be, since the percentage of recognized "big time" acts represented on the program is doubtless quite as high as that presented at the higher-priced house during most of the weeks of its vaudeville season.

The Bowman Brothers, two black-

The Bowman Brothers, two blackface comedians, carry away the honors of the bill-and justly, for, with the single exception of Swor and Mack, they are far and away the best blackface team that the town has seen in many a day. One has a good baritone voice, the other can sing like a steamboat; one is a born comedian, the other is a fine "feeder," and together they good enough to top any bill.

Last season one of the acts that completely submerzed Anna Held in her own variety show was that of Herschell Hendler, a planist-comedian. This week Hendler is on the Colonial's bill, presenting a number of new musical sattree, hesides his familiar interpretations of "Alexander's Rag-Timo Band," in which he plays that classic after the manner of Chopin, Mendelssohn, Strauss, Eizet and John Philip sousa. Unfortunately, his humor is a bit toe clusive for his present audiences.

Petersburg. Va., July 6.—The Police Court docket this morning was the largest that it has been since last Christmas, and the offenses charged covered nearly every form of misdenicanor mentioned in the Code. For some time the residents of Liberty Street have been complaining of a nulcance existing on Ginnams Alley, a short alley that connects Byrne and flarding, but until Friday and Saturday nights the residents of this alley have been smart enough to elude the vigilance of the police. On Friday and Saturday, the chief of police had a squad of his officers surround this alley, with the result that forty arrests were made. In court this morning they were all heavily fined, and the ringleaders, men and women, were required to give bond for their were required to give bond for their good behavior for a period of three
